Dear Kathy Schenck,

My name is Elizabeth Dixon and I am a copy editor in the Computer Publications Department of Sandhills Publishing in Lincoln, Nebraska. In this department we are primarily responsible for the national consumer publications: Smart Computing, CE Lifestyles, PC Today, Processor, and Computer Power User. As a copy editor, I perform second edits on all material for these publications to ensure both consistency and adherence to house style rules.

I am writing to recommend Brian Weed for the American Copy Editors Society Aubespin scholarship. I have worked with Brian here at Sandhills since he began as an editorial intern in January of 2005. Brian is committed to excellence in our publications and always does his best to ensure editorial accuracy. He is not afraid to ask questions and is a reliable, trustworthy employee who takes initiative on all assignments. He conveys a professional attitude and has proven his editing skills to the rest of the members of this department.

On top of his editing skills, Brian also possesses sharp and clever writing skills. He has taken on many articles in his tenure here and always submits assignments in a timely fashion. Brian also pitches article ideas and suggests areas in publications that may need improvement.

I am confident that Brian embodies the principles and goals of the American Copy Editors Society. I think he is a prime candidate for this important scholarship. If you have any questions or need more information, please feel free to contact me at (402) 770-5150.

Best regards,

Elizabeth Dixon
